

Minister Everett Hamilton

Everett Hamilton is a native of Washington DC where he was raised by his inspiring mother, Angela Britt. After his father's death at an early age, Everett's perspective on life would forever be shaped by a mother who had an amazing belief in her son's future. Through teaching, training, loving and inspiring, Everett developed into a young man filled with vision, purpose, wisdom and compassion for life and his fellow man.

Upon high school graduation, Everett rededicated his life to Christ and continued to Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte, N.C. where he received a B.A. in Communications. While there, he tremendously grew in the knowledge of God and in the liberal arts. His accomplishments included being inducted into five nationally recognized honor societies, being named Who's Who Among College Students, maintaining the Deans List, served as V.P. of the Senior Class, Editor and Chief and Photographer of the yearbook and as President of the Student Christian Association where he was instrumental in ushering in a historical campus revival. Everett was also highly sought after as a campus speaker as he prolifically lead hundreds to Christ.

Upon completing a tremendously successful college matriculation, Everett's quest for more of the knowledge of God lead him to Atlanta Ga. where he attended the Interdenominational Theological Center Seminary. Here he received a Masters in Divinity Degree. His studies reshaped his theology and served to synergize his understanding of God and humanity from a global perspective.

Following his matriculations through institutions of higher learning, Everett began a ministry journey under the tutelage of Bishop David T.P. Perrin of Church of the Great Commission in Camp Springs, Md. Here he served in several key capacities including: Director of Kingdom Camp where he planned and implemented summer fun for hundreds of urban youth. He also served as a preschool teacher but was soon elevated to Assistant Principal as his leadership skills became glaringly evident. As assistant principal, Everett was responsible for overseeing student life, special events, parent relations, marketing and enrollment, fund-raising, campus improvement, weekly chapel messages as well as managing the $2 million dollar annual budget.

During his tenure with Church of the Great Commission, Everett also served as assistant to the Bishop. This mentor/mentee relationship was the catalyst for Everett's adventurous world travels including trips to Nigeria, Kenya, Benin, South Africa, Guyana, India as well as visits to Holland, Switzerland, London, France and Mexico. During these awe inspiring trips, Everett creatively ministered the word of God and captured fascinating pictures of the culture.

Relocating to West Palm Beach, Fl. in 2002, Everett joined forces with Bishop Harold Calvin Ray and Pastor Brenda Ray of Redemptive Life Fellowship where he serves as the Director of Marketing and Media. Here Bishop Ray motivated him to sharpen his skills in creative new ways.

Today Everett is the owner of a success business called Hamilton Multimedia, providing a bevy of services including: professional video recording and editing, professional photography, graphic design and print, web development and marketing services. His clients include doctors, business professionals, models, brides, pastors and various artist.

Everett attributes his success to four dominant areas: Honoring God, caring about people, freely sharing knowledge with others and a mother who poured her passion into her son.

